Purple: Data has not been updated within the expected timeline. Data reflected in PM Dashboard is out of date.

Green: Data has been updated within established timeline

Latest Data Point: Most recent date within the dataset

Next Expected Data Point: The next date for the dataset. For example, the data comes out quarterly. The last data point was 12/31/2020. The next expected data point would be 3/31/2021

Data Update Due Date: Date that the process for updating data should be completed. In the above example, if it takes approximately two weeks to process an update, then the data update due date would be 4/14/2021.

Publish Frequency: How often the department publishes the data. For instance, data might be collected monthly but published quarterly. So, the publish frequency would be quarterly.

Status Indicator: Shows the total number of datasets whose updates are current or past due.
